

“FLYING HIGH”

FOR ONE BROWN MACKIE COLLEGE GRADUATE,
THE SKY IS THE LIMIT

Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne graduate Mary Karst is a natural leader. Being a mother of eight children and having owned her own successful child care business for the past twenty years, Karst knows what it takes to assume a leading role.

After graduating from the school with an associate’s degree in Business Management in 2007, Karst has definitely left her mark on others, and set a great example for other Brown Mackie College students. Karst managed to maintain an impressive grade point average in addition to being very involved with student organizations.

During her time at Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne, Karst was president of the Students in Free Enterprise campus organization. “We took what we learned in the classrooms and created projects and workshops to help others in the community who might not have the opportunity to receive such information,” says Karst. She was also an active member of the honor society.

Karst acknowledges her decision to enroll in Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne as being one of the top educational decisions she has ever made. “Attending Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne was the best thing that ever happened to me. I had a lot of really great teachers who were very supportive,” explains Karst. According to Karst, one of the most beneficial aspects of Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne was the career services department. “We did mock interviews and perfected our resumes along with our entire portfolio,” states Karst.

The time Karst spent working with the career services department at Brown Mackie College – Fort Wayne helped her land a part time job working with the American Home Mortgage company. Within the first six months of being hired she earned two promotions and a full time position working within the company. “I am really committed to my work because of my strong work ethic. I enjoy putting my best forward and it shows,” says Karst.
